Group RHI Continues Expansion by Forming Strategic Centers of Excellence

Retirement plan administration firm unveils shared services to deliver expert services to clients

Boston, MA (June 26, 2019) – Group RHI, a national retirement services firm, today announced the formation of its Centers of Excellence, a new initiative to build client satisfaction by drawing together its specialists across the nation.

These Centers of Excellence allow Group RHI’s operating companies to directly collaborate on client engagements. While clients will maintain their existing relationships with their familiar operating company and staff, they’ll benefit by accessing the highly qualified professionals working throughout the Group RHI organization.

“Our growth strategy has led us to acquire excellent companies and truly skilled staff,” said Group RHI CEO Tom Gaillard. “With the rollout of our Centers of Excellence, we’re encouraging our team to work in partnership with their colleagues, giving clients access to an exceptional level of retirement plan administration services. We have been innovation-minded since Group RHI’s formation, and we’re continuing that innovation with our Centers of Excellence.”

Beginning this summer, the company’s Centers of Excellence ultimately encompass all its service areas including defined contribution plans, defined benefit plans, recordkeeping, legal services, 3(16) fiduciary services and loans and distributions. These Centers leverage Group RHI’s investment in technology and best-practice operating procedures to harness the best solutions for clients.
